

BRITISH IGNORE MUSSOLINI'S "PEACE" PLEA

"STAY NEUTRAL, BUT BE READY!"
LEGION ADVISES

Nation Urged to Buttress Peace With Impregnable Defense

ANNUAL CONCLAVE
HELD IN CHICAGO

Salem Post Represented;
More Members Expect
To Go Tonight

Government, state and civil leaders joined with high officers of the American Legion at Chicago today in counselling the nation to buttress its peace with an impregnable defense.

Uncompromising neutrality and preparedness formed the theme of address delivered to thousands of veterans and women's auxiliary members gathered in the Chicago coliseum for the first session of the Legion's 21st national convention.

Salem at Convention

Charles H. Carey post No. 56 of Salem will be well represented at the conclave. Several members, including Delegate John T. Burns and Alternate Ted Coyne, left for Chicago yesterday. Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer is taking his second week of vacation to attend the rally.

An additional group of local Legionnaires was expected to leave sometime today, to reach Chicago in time for the parade tomorrow. An excursion train will stop at the Pennsylvania railroad depot here tonight.

The views of Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring, scheduled as one of three speakers interpreting the Legion's three-fold service to community, state and nation, were presented by his representative,
Brig. Gen. Frank M. Andrews.

"There are those in this and other nations who proclaim that neutrality is not possible," Woodring said in his prepared address. "There are those who persist that in these times a democratic form of government—neutral or unneutral—must fail and in the end give way to some new ideology in government. With these I do not agree."

The same cry, he said, had been raised at trying moments in the nation's history since George Washington's day, but such fears always had proved unwarranted.

Reaffirms Old Resolve

The Legion, he said, was reaffirming its solemn resolve of 21 years ago—"It shall not happen again."

National Commander Stephen F.
Chapwick expressed belief in his prepared report that "our country can be kept from involvement in other people's strife," and said "we propose, out of our experience, to control and advise the citizenry of America to the end that America may keep the peace and by example afford to other nations the hope that through democracy and democratic institutions the world may some day reach the goal of peace."

He recommended the Legion withdraw from FIDAC, international organization of veterans of the Allied forces in the World war, in the interest of neutrality.

Col. Gen. Werner von Fritsch

Brilliant strategist and former com-

Von Fritsch, at odds with Hitler,

LEWIS PROTESTS
PROPOSED PACT

Assails Impending Trade Agreement With Argentina

Congressman Earl R. Lewis of St. Clairsville has filed a letter with Secretary of State Cordell Hull, protesting the government's proposed conclusion of a trade agreement with Argentina which, according to Lewis, would bring a price reduction on agricultural products, thus permitting vast quantities of farm products from that country to be shipped to the United States and sold in competition with products from local farms.

The congressman's letter to Secretary Hull read:

"I understand that the state department is about to negotiate a trade agreement with Argentina and that under this proposed agreement, agricultural products now produced in the United States in quantities more than sufficient to supply our needs are to be admitted into this country from Argentina at a reduced duty, so that the Argentine products can be sold in our markets cheaper than our farmers can produce the same.

"As the representative of a district that is largely agricultural, I wish to protest as strongly as I can against the conclusion of any such agreement, which in my opinion, will inevitably bring further depression of the prices of farm products of the United States.

"May I most respectfully suggest,
Mr. Secretary, that the only sound basis for a reciprocal trade agreement between nations must be based upon the exchange of commodities which are not produced or are produced in insufficient quantities in the nation that is to receive the same. Any other basis for a reciprocal trade agreement inevitably leads to an imported commodity and thus to a similar kind produced in this country, always to the detriment of our own producers, and in this case, our farmers.

"Will you please give serious consideration to these suggestions to the end that no agreement be made that will tend to further reduce the price of farm commodities."

Two Are Arrested

In Chicken Thefts

LISBON, Sept. 25.—Conrad White-acre, 23, and another Fairfield township boy, 17, were arrested
Sunday afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs O. W. Stacey and M. K. Duty in connection with the theft of chickens at the farm of Jack Grubbs, four miles north of here.
While investigating the theft, the officers found a crate of chickens in a shed on a nearby farm. They waited and nabbed the youths
when they appeared.

Whitacre was scheduled for a hearing today before Justice M. K.
Zimmerman. The other lad was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Fight Grass Fire

LISBON, Sept. 25.—The Lisbon Volunteer Fire department was called out late Saturday afternoon to fight a grass fire which for a time threatened the garage of the county highway department.
The fire was started in a rubbish heap nearby. The spreading flames were soon checked upon arrival of the fire fighters. This was the third call in 24 hours for the volunteers.

GERMANS' ZEP
PLANT BOMBED,
SWISS REPORT

One of Nazis' Main Plane
Motor Factories Put
Out of Action

DENIAL IS ISSUED
BY HIGH COMMAND

Swiss Report Reverbera-
tions From Two Separate Attacks

(By Associated Press)
ROMANSHORN, Switzerland, Sept. 25.—One of Germany's main
airplane motor factories was reported today to have been put out
of action by bombs from French
or British planes staging a raid on the Zeppelin works at Friedrichs-shafen, Germany, last night.

(The German high command, a dispatch from Berlin said, flatly denied that there had been any air
raid on Friedrichshafen.)
The first alarm in the Friedrichs-
shafen area—five miles across Lake
Constance from here—started searchlights sweeping the skies at 8:15 p. m. (2:15 p. m. E. S. T.) and a number of anti-aircraft batteries
on the German side opened fire.
Explosions of a few bombs could
be heard here.

Estimate 30 Bombs Dropped

The main part of the raid apparently came when a second alarm
was sounded at 11 p. m. military observers on the Swiss side, judging by the dull roars heard here,
estimated at least 30 bombs were dropped by the raiders despite heavy anti-aircraft fire, which included tracer bullets.

Reports reaching here said several direct hits on the factory were scored, but because the border was closed these could not be confirmed.

These reports said the attack apparently was aimed, not only at Friedrichshafen but also at the little town of Manzell, about three miles up the lake from Friedrichs-shafen. The Zeppelin works, recently converted into a factory for airplane motors and other parts,
opened another plant at Manzell.
It was not known if any of the raiders—whose number also was unknown—were hit by the anti-aircraft fire or by fighter planes
sent up to meet them.

DEATH SUMMONS
FLOYD GIBBONS

Globe-Trotting War Correspondent Gets "Last Assignment"

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 25.—
Death has cancelled the last re-portorial assignment of Floyd Gibbons, 52, globe-trotting war correspondent a quarter of a century.

In the midst of plans to go abroad to cover the European war,
the noted newspaper, radio and movie reporter died last night after a heart attack at his farm home
near here.

A swashbuckling figure, Gibbons
personified to the public the romantic aspects of foreign news reporting.

This impression was heightened
by a white cloth patch the ruddyfaced 200-pound, 6-foot correspondent wore over his left eye, shot out
at Belleau wood during the World war when Gibbons leaped up to pull a wounded soldier, Major Ben Berry, to safety.

Gibbons, wounded also in the shoulder and elbow by machine gun
fire, was awarded the Croix de Guerre and made a chevalier in the French Legion of Honor for this exploit.

Among notable news beats scored
by Gibbons during a reportorial
career was an exclusive interview
with Joseph Stalin and an account
of the torpedoing in September, 1917, of the U. S. Laconia, on which he was a passenger.

Gibbons won his first recognition as a special correspondent for
the Chicago Tribune. In later years
he roved the world for the Hearst newspapers and International News Service.

Nazi Victory

National Guard Chieftain
Says "I Believe We
Will Enter War"

(By Associated Press)
PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 25.—Maj.
Gen. A. M. Tuttle, adjutant general of Arizona, asserts "victory for Germany in the European war
would render this nation virtually helpless economically and militari-stically."

He told the Arizona National Guard "I believe we will" enter the
war and added:

"If Germany wins and takes over the fleets of France and Great Britain, it would have complete control of the sea and its airforce would outnumber us 15 to 1. "Where will we be? What becomes of our overseas trade?"

"The argument is heard that 3,- 000 miles of water separates us
from Europe, but Brazil is closer to Germany than it is to the United States and if they should begin by colonizing it, the sea barrier would work against us instead of them."

As to national defense, he commented, "we haven't any."

Record Falls Twice
In Trapshoot Event

Firing a near-perfect score,
Twine Seeds won a "diamond pin"
trapshoot at the Salem Country club Sunday.

Seeds shattered 49 targets in the 50-bird event to set a new record for the "diamond pin" shoots.
George Baillie, runner-up to Seeds with a score of 46, also broke the old record of 47.

Scores of other shooters were:
R. C. McAllister, 44; James Gil-land, 44; Dr. G. A. Roose, 42; Randall Hamilton, 42; D. B. McCune, 41; James Carpenter, 41; C. B.
Chisholm, 39; N. C. Hunt, 38; Mrs.
G. A. Roose, 38.

The diamond pin which goes to the winner of the shoot is emblemized of the Columbiana county trapshooting championship.

Jr., 23, of Toledo. Constable W. F.
Shields said his body was found

FOUR ARE HURT
IN AUTOMOBILES

Washingtonville Man Is Injured In Auto Race
At Canfield

Four persons were injured in district traffic accidents over the weekend while a Washingtonville man, driving a midget racing car, suffered injuries in a crackup at Canfield Sunday afternoon.

The victim, Lynn DeJene, 31, was in a race at the fairgrounds track when his car started to climb a rear wheel of another machine,
then somersaulted and fell on him.
He was removed to St. Elizabeth's hospital in Youngstown, suffering from a fractured arm and leg and possible internal injuries.

The accident occurred in the fifth race of the day's program as DeJene's car was rounding a turn.
It was the consolation race—somewhat ill-named for the driver.
Glendon Bowman, 22, of 302
Maple st., Lisbon, received a cut on his forehead when the automobile in which he was riding with Robert Strabala, 24, of R. D. 4, Lisbon, left Route 164 one and one-half miles south of Columbiana, at 3:30 a. m. Sunday and went into a ditch. Strabala and Edwin Dickey, Lisbon, escaped with scratches.

According to state patrolmen,
the steering arm on Strabala's machine broke, causing the accident.

Cars operated by Ralph Hendrix,
16, of Akron and Frank Upperman, 66, of R. D. 1, Hanoverton, collided at an intersection on Route 2, seven miles south of Salem, at 10:45
a. m. Sunday, the patrol reported.

Evelyn Woodard, 17, of Akron, riding with Hendrix, suffered bruises.

Mrs. William J. Miller, 32, of Postoria, was bruised when the auto driven by her husband went into a ditch on Route 7 at Middleport 2 p. m. yesterday. Mr. Miller took to the ditch in an attempt to avoid hitting a car which stopped suddenly in front of him.

At East Liverpool, C. F. McBurney, 27, was injured when his automobile overturned after striking a culvert near the city yesterday.

PICKETS HALT
OFFICE WORKER

Columbiana Furniture Plant Negotiations Halted Again; Officials Unable to Get Records

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 25.—Negotiations for settlement of a strike which has kept the Franklin Furniture Co. plant here closed for more than a month were at a standstill today because company officials have been blocked in their efforts to prepare business records which union leaders requested to see.

A woman office employee whose assistance is needed in preparing the business statements was stopped by pickets and refused admission to the plant this morning.
Company heads said they could not prepare the records without her help.

The request for a look at the business records was made by leaders of Local No. 89, United Furniture Workers of America, at a meeting with company officials and a representative of the mediation board of the department of labor Sunday.

Company officials planned to meet again with union leaders some time this week but said today that a future meeting will have to be delayed until office employes are permitted to enter the plant to help prepare the business statements.

Speed Up Plan
To Finish War;
Soviet Queried

Russian Ambassador Asked
To Clarify Stand In Eastern Europe

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Sept. 25.—Great Britain answered Premier Mussolini's suggestion to call the war quits on Germany's military conquest of Poland by intensifying today her preparations for a fight to the finish.

An authoritative commentary on Mussolini's speech in Rome Saturday declared Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement of Britain's war aim—"to redeem Europe from the perpetual and recurring fear of German aggression"— still held good.

Britain remained determined, it said, despite the complication of Soviet Russia's occupation of eastern Poland.

Informed sources, however, said Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax, who called Russian Ambassador Ivan Maisky to his office for an hour's interview Saturday night, had requested clarification of Soviet aims in Eastern Europe.

Meanwhile, these war developments were disclosed:

1. British expeditionary troops are moving toward battle positions alongside French Polus who already have carried operations onto German soil.

2. Gilbert S. Szlumper, general manager of the Southern railway, who was senior transport officer of the British army in the World war, has been assigned to direct all military transport by land and sea.

3. The British fleet and air forces are widening their warfare at sea, trying to cut off the escape of raiding German submarines to hideouts.

4. Plans have been made to speed up production in British shipyards to replace tonnage destroyed by submarines and mines which already have sunk 30 British merchant vessels.

rocal trade agreement inevitably leads to ruinous competition between an imported commodity and that of similar kind produced in

acre, 23, and another Fairfield
township boy, 17, were arrested
Sunday afternoon by Deputy Sher-
iffs O. W. Stacey and M. K. Duty

GERMANS' ZEP
PLANT BOMBED,
SWISS REPORT

One of Nazis' Main Plane
Motor Factories Put
Out of Action

DENIAL IS ISSUED
BY HIGH COMMAND

Swiss Report Reverbera-
tions From Two Separate Attacks

(By Associated Press)
ROMANSHORN, Switzerland, Sept. 25.—One of Germany's main
airplane motor factories was reported today to have been put out
of action by bombs from French
or British planes staging a raid on the Zeppelin works at Friedrichs-
shafen, Germany, last night.

(The German high command, a dispatch from Berlin said, flatly
denied that there had been any air
raid on Friedrichshafen.)

The first alarm in the Friedrichs-
shafen area—five miles across Lake
Constance from here—started
searchlights sweeping the skies at 8:15 p. m. (2:15 p. m. E. S. T.) and a number of anti-aircraft batteries
on the German side opened fire.
Explosions of a few bombs could
be heard here.

Estimate 30 Bombs Dropped

The main part of the raid apparently came when a second alarm
was sounded at 11 p. m. military
observers on the Swiss side, judging by the dull roars heard here,
estimated at least 30 bombs were dropped by the raiders despite heavy anti-aircraft fire, which included tracer bullets.

Reports reaching here said several direct hits on the factory were scored, but because the border was closed these could not be confirmed.

These reports said the attack apparently was aimed, not only at Friedrichshafen but also at the little town of Manzell, about three miles up the lake from Friedrichs-
shafen. The Zeppelin works, recently converted into a factory for airplane motors and other parts,
opened another plant at Manzell.

It was not known if any of the raid—whose number also was unknown—were hit by the anti-
aircraft fire or by fighter planes
sent up to meet them.

FLOYD GIBBONS

Globe-Trotting War Correspondent Gets "Last Assignment"

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 25.—
Death has cancelled the last re-portorial assignment of Floyd Gibbons, 52, globe-trotting war correspondent a quarter of a century.

In the midst of plans to go
abroad to cover the European war,
the noted newspaper, radio and
movie reporter died last night after
a heart attack at his farm home
near here.

A swashbuckling figure, Gibbons
personified to the public the romantic aspects of foreign news reporting.

This impression was heightened
by a white cloth patch the ruddy-
faced 200-pound, 6-foot correspondent wore over his left eye, shot out
at Belleau Wood during the World
war when Gibbons leaped up to pull a wounded soldier, Major Ben Berry, to safety.

Gibbons, wounded also in the shoulder and elbow by machine gun
fire, was awarded the Croix de Guerre and made a chevalier in the French Legion of Honor for this exploit.

Among notable news beats scored
by Gibbons during a reportorial
career was an exclusive interview
with Joseph Stalin and an account
of the torpedoing in September, 1917, of the U. S. Laconia, on which he was a passenger.

Gibbons won his first recognition as a special correspondent for
the Chicago Tribune. In later years
he roved the world for the Hearst newspapers and International News Service.

they disappeared.

National Guard Chieftain
Says "I Believe We
Will Enter War"

(By Associated Press)
PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 25.—Maj.
Gen. A. M. Tutill, adjutant general of Arizona, asserts "victory for Germany in the European war
would render this nation virtually helpless economically and militarily."

He told the Arizona National Guard "I believe we will" enter the
war and added:

"If Germany wins and takes over
the fleets of France and Great Britain, it would have complete
control of the sea and its air force
would outnumber us 15 to 1. 'Where will we be? What becomes of our
overseas trade?'

"The argument is heard that 3, 000 miles of water separates us
from Europe, but Brazil is closer to Germany than it is to the United States and if they should begin by colonizing it, the sea barrier would
work against us instead of them."

As to national defense, he commented, "we haven't any."

He was removed to St. Elizabeth's

FIGHTING FOR PEACE

President Roosevelt gave to Congress last week one of the most fateful problems it has ever faced and thereby precipitated a struggle on which the future of nations may depend.

Asking that the neutrality law be amended to strike out its arms embargo and allow this country to traffic with the world on the cash and carry basis, President Roosevelt faced a determined opposition of men who are in accord with his objective—to maintain the peace of the United States—but who disagree bitterly as to the way in which this can best be accomplished.

The president's appeal for action was a sincere, statesmanlike address but there is no indication that it moved any of those legislators who have taken their stand on the opposite side. The clear drawing of lines representing the two groups promises a long and bitter fight but the striking thing about it is the apparent sincerity of both groups. There is no division along party lines and Republicans and Democrats are found on both sides.

It is a question on the one hand whether the United States shall refuse arms and war materials to all belligerents or whether it will sell to all who can pay for the goods and take them home in their own ships. The former stand, now in effect, is to the advantage of Germany which has little money to buy supplies and no ships in which to transport them. The revision asked by the President would be an aid to England and France which have both money and ships.

The difficult question is determination of where real neutrality lies. Shall this nation favor isolated Germany by refusing arms to all or shall it help the western democracies by making its supplies available to all who can come and get them?

It is a question on which may rest not only this country's peace and security but even the fate of the world and there is every indication that Congress approaches the question with a full realization of all its seriousness. Congress shows real statesmanship by its pledge to approach the matter with free and open discussion without limiting debate on the one hand and without filibuster on the other.

To both sides and to all America we commend the closing words of the President's address:

"In a period when it is sometimes said that free discussion is no longer compatible with national safety, may you by your deeds show the world that we of the United States are one people, of one mind, one spirit, one clear resolution, walking before God in the light of the living".

To which we add what is in the minds of all Americans:

"And may those deeds dedicate America to that course which will keep the United States at peace and bring that peace to a world tottering on the verge of madness".

THE SOUND OF PEACE

Be not deluded by the thought that amendment of the neutrality act means that the United States is to become less neutral or less determined to pursue the cause of peace. The legislative battle now starting in Washington is not over the issue of peace or war but upon the question of how best to preserve neutrality and keep this country from becoming involved in world madness.

There are honest and sincere men on both sides. Revisionists believe that present law permitting the United States to ship steel, cotton, food and the other sinews of war in American ships brings danger which would be avoided by selling to all belligerents but requiring them to carry the goods in their own ships. The opposition believes that the safest course to peace lies in refusing to sell munitions and implements of war to any belligerent by retaining the present law which permits the United States to sell and deliver anything not actually used in warfare.

Supporters of the President say that American ships carrying grain and other necessities under present laws are in danger of attack. His opponents answer that to open the way for export of planes, guns and munitions to England and France, the only belligerents who can come after them, would be an unneutral attitude toward powers cut off from the sea lanes.

Both sides want peace. Thus far both sides are preserving what they believe is the neutral attitude toward Europe. Each will be influenced somewhat by the attitude of the people back home.

It is important, therefore, that the people be not deluded by words. They must understand that a so-called "Neutrality Act" may be unneutral by changing world conditions. They must not be stampeded into a wave of telegrams and letters to their legislators by the oratory of partisans of either side. For its own part, Congress in appraising the avalanche of communications must decide whether they represent the real judgment of an informed public or whether they come from people who have been swayed only by the sweet sound of peace but who have not understanding of the best ways by which it may be attained.

CAN ROUMANIA STAND?

Roumania appears for the present to have turned an abortive coup by the Fascist-inspired Iron Guard into a fiasco. Premier Calinescu, enemy of the Nazis, was assassinated but his murderers were rounded up and executed with typical Balkan promptness and drama as a public spectacle to impress other malcontents. The army seems to have the situation in hand.

Roumania's fate, however, rests upon conditions over which King Carol and his government have no control. Hitler wants Roumania's resources, especially her oil and grain. Under other circumstances this would be the time for him to send his armies across her border under the familiar guise of protecting minorities against "terrorism".

Hitler is occupied with bigger things just now. Russia also has interests in Roumania and they do not parallel those of Germany. Any armed move by Hitler might shake the none too stable understanding with his new ally. Thus the war on the west and precarious peace on the east may enable Carol to maintain order and at least a temporary neutrality.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, September 26

AN UNCERTAIN day is forecast. There may be many swift-moving events, which may be subject to annoyance and frustration, judging by the lunar figures. With a proper degree of precaution and discretion where there might be pitfalls, plots and other manifestations of duplicity, things may not wind up disastrously. There is the prospect of the helpful intervention of a superior, one high in authority, or just a faithful friend.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a rather routine year, except for some swift-moving episode which may have such aspects of ruthlessness as to make the intervention of powerful friends, superiors or those in authority needful. This intervention may save matters from trickery, deceit or some form of sinister entanglement. With this aid and circumspect conduct, catastrophe may be averted.

A child born on this day may have a gentle, friendly, sympathetic and humane nature, which may make it an easy prey for schemers and tricksters. It may have artistic, poetic or musical inclinations and talents.

Diet Is Of Importance In Treatment Of Anemia

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THERE are many different types of anemia, and more are being discovered daily. The treatment varies in each case, but there are certain fundamental principles that should be followed in all cases. The mechanical replacement of lost blood, by transfusion, is an established and life-saving procedure. It should be considered in all cases.

Removal of the cause of bleeding, or blood loss is the next point of attack. In emergency cases it is really secondary to transfusion because a deficient amount of blood in the body must be replaced immediately, as it may be a question of life and death.

Dr. Clendingning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

In the use of iron and liver we have the two great remedies that apply to most forms of anemia.

Value of Diet

A point that is not sufficiently stressed is the value of a diet no matter what form of anemia is present. There should be an adequate diet, with emphasis on liver, raw meats and eggs. Whole liver, while specific for pernicious anemia, may be valuable in all types of anemia. An adequate vitamin and ash content should be assured by the inclusion of abundant fruits and vegetables. Milk, the starchy vegetables, cereals and sweets are useless for blood formation, so they should only be used after an adequate supply of meats, fruits and green vegetables is provided.

A diet used in a large hospital as a routine in anemia cases is as follows:

Breakfast—Fresh fruit; meat—one-fourth pound steak or three lamb chops; buttered toast; coffee, tea or milk.

- 1 It's all yours, all of the time.
- 2 You never have to wait to make a call.
- 3 Your friends can reach you immediately unless you are using the line.
- 4 No one can "listen in" on your conversations.
- 5 You can talk as long as you like without interference.
- 6 You get the most service for your money.

..... are busier now

In the old days, life moved more slowly. People didn't use the telephone so often or for so many purposes. But today it's different. Party lines are "kept hot" by the various members of families on the line.

Haven't you had trouble getting the line when you wanted to make a call? A private line, reserved for your exclusive use, eliminates these delays. You're never dependent upon the pleasure of other parties. The line is YOURS whenever you lift the receiver.

For complete satisfaction in the use of your telephone service, order a private line. It gives you the most service for your money.

President Roosevelt gave to Congress last week one of the most fateful problems it has ever faced and thereby precipitated a struggle on which the future of nations may depend.

Asking that the neutrality law be amended to strike out its arms embargo and allow this country to traffic with the world on the cash and carry basis, President Roosevelt faced a determined opposition of men who are in accord with his objective—to maintain the peace of the United States—but who disagree bitterly as to the way in which this can best be accomplished.

The president's appeal for action was a sincere, statesmanlike address but there is no indication that it moved any of those legislators who have taken their stand on the opposite side. The clear drawing of lines representing the two groups promises a long and bitter fight but the striking thing about it is the apparent sincerity of both groups. There is no division along party lines and Republicans and Democrats are found on both sides.

It is a question on the one hand whether the United States shall refuse arms and war materials to all belligerents or whether it will sell to all who can pay for the goods and take them home in their own ships. The former stand, now in effect, is to the advantage of Germany which has little money to buy supplies and no ships in which to transport them. The revision asked by the President would be an aid to England and France which have both money and ships.

The difficult question is determination of where real neutrality lies. Shall this nation favor isolated Germany by refusing arms to all or shall it help the western democracies by making its supplies available to all who can come and get them?

It is a question on which may rest not only this country's peace and security but even the fate of the world and there is every indication that Congress approaches the question with a full realization of all its seriousness. Congress shows real statesmanship by its pledge to approach the matter with free and open discussion without limiting debate on the one hand and without filibuster on the other.

To both sides and to all America we commend the closing words of the President's address:

"In a period when it is sometimes said that free discussion is no longer compatible with national safety, may you by your deeds show the world that we of the United States are one people, of one mind, one spirit, one clear resolution, walking before God in the light of the living."

To which we add what is in the minds of all Americans:

"And may those deeds dedicate America to that course which will keep the United States at peace and bring that peace to a world tottering on the verge of madness."

THE SOUND OF PEACE

Be not deluded by the thought that amendment of the neutrality act means that the United States is to become less neutral or less determined to pursue the cause of peace. The legislative battle now starting in Washington is not over the issue of peace or war but upon the question of how best to preserve neutrality and keep this country from becoming involved in world madness.

There are honest and sincere men on both sides. Revisionists believe that present law permitting the United States to ship steel, cotton, food and the other shew of war in American ships brings danger which would be avoided by selling to all belligerents but requiring them to carry the goods in their own ships. The opposition believes that the safest course to peace lies in refusing to sell munitions and implements of war to any belligerent by retaining the present law which permits the United States to sell and deliver anything not actually used in warfare.

Supporters of the President say that American ships carrying grain and other necessities under present laws are in danger of attack. His opponents answer that to open the way for export of planes, guns and munitions to England and France, the only belligerents who can come after them, would be an unneutral attitude toward powers cut off from the sea lanes.

Both sides want peace. Thus far both sides are preserving what they believe is the neutral attitude toward Europe. Each will be influenced somewhat by the attitude of the people back home.

It is important, therefore, that the people be not deluded by words. They must understand that a so-called "Neutrality Act" may be unneutral by changing world conditions. They must not be stampeded into a wave of telegrams and letters to their legislators by the oratory of partisans of either side. For its own part, Congress in appraising the avalanche of communications must decide whether they represent the real judgment of an informed public or whether they come from people who have been swayed only by the sweet sound of peace but who have not understanding of the best ways by which it may be attained.

CAN ROUMANIA STAND?

Roumania appears for the present to have turned an abortive coup by the Fascist-inspired Iron Guard into a fiasco. Premier Calinescu, enemy of the Nazis, was assassinated but his murderers were rounded up and executed with typical Balkan promptness and drama as a public spectacle to impress other malcontents. The army seems to have the situation in hand.

Roumania's fate, however, rests upon conditions over which King Carol and his government have no control. Hitler wants Roumania's resources, especially her oil and grain. Under other circumstances this would be the time for him to send his armies across her border under the familiar guise of protecting minorities against "terrorism".

Hitler is occupied with bigger things just now. Russia also has interests in Roumania and they do not parallel those of Germany. Any armed move by Hitler might shake the none too stable understanding with his new ally. Thus the war on the west and precarious peace on the east may enable Carol to maintain order and at least a temporary neutrality.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, September 26

AN UNCERTAIN day is forecast. There may be many swift-moving events, which may be subject to annoyance and frustration, judging by the lunar figures. With a proper degree of precaution and discretion where there might be pitfalls, plots and other manifestations of duplicity, things may not wind up disastrously. There is the prospect of the helpful intervention of a superior, one high in authority, or just a faithful friend.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a rather routine year, except for some swift-moving episode which may have such aspects of ruthlessness as to make the intervention of powerful friends, superiors or those in authority needful. This intervention may save matters from trickery, deceit or some form of sinister entanglement. With this aid and circumspect conduct, catastrophe may be averted.

A child born on this day may have a gentle, friendly, sympathetic and humane nature, which may make it an easy prey for schemers and tricksters. It may have artistic, poetic or musical inclinations and talents.

Diet Is Of Importance
In Treatment Of Anemia

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THERE are many different types of anemia, and more are being discovered daily. The treatment varies in each case, but there are certain fundamental principles that should be followed in all cases.

The mechanical replacement of loss of blood, by transfusion, is an established and life-saving procedure. It should be considered in all cases.

Removal of the cause of bleeding or blood loss is the next point of attack. In emergency cases it is really secondary to transfusion because a deficient amount of blood in the body must be replaced immediately, as it may be a question of life and death.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

In the use of iron and liver we have the two great remedies that apply to most forms of anemia.

Value of Diet

A point that is not sufficiently stressed is the value of a diet no matter what form of anemia is present. There should be an adequate diet, with emphasis on liver, raw meats and eggs. Whole liver, while specific for pernicious anemia, may be valuable in all types of anemia. An adequate vitamin and ash content should be assured by the inclusion of abundant fruits and vegetables. Milk, the starchy vegetables, cereals and sweets are useless for blood formation, so they should only be used after an adequate supply of meats, fruits and green vegetables is provided.

A diet used in a large hospital as a routine in anemia cases is as follows:

Breakfast—Fresh fruit; meat—one-fourth pound, steak or three lamb chops; buttered toast; coffee, tea or milk.

Suggestions for Lunch
Lunch—one-fourth pound liver; two medium-sized potatoes. Any of the following vegetables; asparagus, Brussels sprouts, sauerkraut, cauliflower, cucumbers, turnips, spinach, greens, carrots, squash, pumpkin, celery, string beans, cabbage, beets, peas, tomato, lettuce, include fruit gelatin, or fresh fruit from the following list: oranges, pineapple, raisins, apples, lemons, strawberries, grapefruit, prunes, blackberries, apricots. Also, bread or toast with butter; coffee, tea or milk.

Dinner—One of the following meats: lamb or mutton chop, three; steak, one-fourth pound; rare roast beef, two large slices. Also, vegetables, any two from list above; bread or toast with butter; fresh fruit from list above, or fruit gelatin; coffee, tea or milk.

In the old days, life moved more slowly. People didn't use the telephone so often or for so many purposes. But today it's different. Party lines are "kept hot" by the various members of families on the line.

Haven't you had trouble getting the line when you wanted to make a call? A private line, reserved for your exclusive use, eliminates these delays. You're never dependent upon the pleasure of other parties. The line is YOURS whenever you lift the receiver.

For complete satisfaction in the use of your telephone service, order a private line. It gives you the most service for your money.

"REDHEADS ARE LUCKY"

BY VERA BROWN

SYNOPSIS

"Mike" Shannon, petite red-headed magazine counter girl at the Eureka hotel, had bitten the already renowned left hand of "Handsome" Larry Regan while he was stifling her cry of alarm. She ran into him as he — a famous rookie big league pitcher — was trying to sneak to his hotel room via a rear entrance of a team "curfew" locker. Handsome had been drinking a little. He apologized to Mike and persuaded the indignant red-head to accompany him to a nearby lunch room. Though she saved him from the club's "curfew scout," she was still annoyed with the brash young athlete when he let her go home alone.

CHAPTER III

Mike was working from ten to six the next day. She found it hard to drag herself out of bed. Her mother had gone to the hospital when Mike awakened, and Mary and Pack were at school. The house was a mess. Mike tried to straighten things as she waited for the coffee to boil, but it was a hopeless task.

If Mike dressed with unusual care that morning, combed her rebellious red bob with more deliberation, she did not admit it to herself.

On the way to work via the subway Mike read the newspaper. She tried to appear unconcerned as she turned directly to the sport pages. There, a sports writer was giving the low-down on "Handsome."

"The Sheik from Charlotte is causing Ace Barnes a lot of headaches," the writer commented, "Ace may take some drastic disciplinary action with the freshman pitcher."

"That should make Handsome's headache better this morning!" She arrived at the hotel promptly at 10, and went to work. Mornings were always busy, but Mike waited the clock.

It was not more than 15 minutes after Mike had come on duty that she looked across the counter to see Handsome towering there before her. He seemed in the pink of condition. He appeared perfectly satisfied with the world.

"Hello Mike. How's everything?" Just as casually as though he'd been greeting her there every morning for weeks. He bought a morning paper, but made sure as he took his change from her that she saw the splash of iodine on his left hand. Mike felt her cheeks burn, but she answered his greeting conventionally enough. Then he remarked:

"I didn't know you'd be to work so early. What time are you through tonight?"

Mike was sure she would not answer. But of course, she did.

"Six o'clock today."

"What have the boys got to say about me this morning?" he said as he turned to the sports pages of his newspaper.

"Nothing very cheering," Mike could not resist that thrust.

"I suppose not. They like taking cracks at me." He glanced rapidly through the columns, spotted the one she had seen on the subway. He threw down the paper.

The next morning, Mike saw Handsome towering over her... "What time are you through tonight?" he asked before reading the "roasts" in the newspapers...

"I ought to bust that guy right in the nose! He's got his nerve!" "Maybe it's true, what it says."

"I don't care about that. Maybe it is. But look what he calls me... 'Heik of Charlotte!'"

An adoring bell boy came over with Larry's mail. There was a stack of it, some in colored envelopes.

"Fan mail," Mike's eyes were twinkling.

"Yes, women. Tell me, Mike, why are women such nuts?"

"You should know."

Handsome did not answer as he flipped through the pile, picked out one.

"From home. I'll read it while I eat breakfast. Come and sit with me."

"I can't, I'm working."

Regan started away and turned back with an afterthought. "I'll be back by six and we'll eat." He brushed aside Mike's protests. "Unless the game runs over-time."

Then he was gone before Mike could protest further.

The day passed slowly although she was busy. In the afternoon the radio was on in the further corner of the lobby. But there was too much noise for Mike to hear the game over in her far corner. She planned just what she'd do that night. She'd get away before Handsome came back to the hotel. That would avoid all trouble. She'd be on her way home. She'd get away—

But she didn't. The game was over early and Handsome came strolling into the hotel lobby at a quarter to six looking so clean and fresh and immaculate, that it was no wonder everybody turned to look at him as he made his way toward the magazine counter.

"I'm starving," were his first words. "How long before you can get out of here?"

"Not until six o'clock.... But I must get home right after dinner."

He was impatient. "Well, hurry up. I'll be down again in a few minutes."

Of course the gossip had got around that hotel that Handsome Regan was "going" for Mike. In the four years she had worked at the Eureka, Mike had never even had dinner with a guest. So it was hardly surprising that every body watched with interest to see whether Mike was having dinner with Regan that night. She felt their curious eyes on her and was embarrassed.

Mr. Downey, the day manager, came over to her counter at six to talk to Larry as he waited. They plunged into argument about the day's play immediately.

"Horton was off his game," Mr. Downey said firmly.

"He never was on it," Larry retorted scornfully. Downey shrugged his shoulders, and smiled.

Mike came back slowly from the cloak room where the night before she had met Larry so unceremoniously. "See this young man gets in at a decent hour, Mike." The girl nodded.

They walked up Broadway, and Mike was pleased at the attention the broad shouldered figure at her side created. Mary turned to stare. A newsboy yelled:

"Howdy, Handsome?" Larry grinned at him, waved his hand.

"He loves it," Mike realized suddenly. "It's like dope. He's had it, from the time he was three!"

They strolled along in the early spring twilight and Mike suddenly felt desperately unhappy. Something warned her: I shouldn't be here with Handsome! But she was. Then Larry took off his hat ceremoniously with a gesture turned it around, put it back on again.

"What's the matter?"

"Cross-eyed woman! They're bad luck for ball players unless you change your hat around."

Mike could hardly believe her ears. Then they both laughed.

At the restaurant it was as if had been in the street. Waiters rushed to the front. The manager came. People bowed, necks craned.

Mike was suddenly conscious of her cheap black frock. She could not realize she was the pretties thing in the place with her amazing hair and her heart shaped face. But she knew her frock came from a basement sale and that her hat was last year's.

Mike and Handsome were finally settled with great ado.

"Now, begin," Larry ordered.

"About yourself."

If Larry was a braggart, he had that quality which also invites confidences. He was a good listener. And Mike found herself telling him all about Jimmie.

"I'll come and see him just as soon as you get him home from the hospital. I'll get Ace Barnes to autograph a ball for him."

When they ordered food, Larry asked for a high-ball.

"No high-ball. One glass of beer, maybe. No more," Mike said firmly.

"O. K. Skipper. One beer, wait-er."

Larry grinned down at her. "I can see you're going to be a good influence in my life." He shrugged.

"I need that all right. Ace found out today I've been living on hot dogs because I was broke. That mug roommate of mine squealed."

"Do you mean to say you haven't been eating?"

"Not any too regular."

"Larry! That's terrible!"

"So Ace says no more poker games when we're on the road and the gang's wild at me. Why should they blame me? Why don't they blame Travis. He's the one that squawked. I didn't!"

Theater Attractions

A role tailored to fit Bing Crosby is the title role in "The Star Maker", which shows tonight and Tuesday at the State. Playing the part of a song writer who becomes a success in show business by presenting outstanding youngsters, Crosby is seen in one of his best performances. The story is based on the life of Gus Edwards, famed showman who was the first to realize the public interest in child talent.

The story takes Crosby through the highlights of Edwards' career shows him succeeding with the youngsters' show; then, rebuffed by the Gerry society for having children perform after 19 o'clock, finally winning success on the radio, then in its infancy.

The supporting cast includes Louise Campbell as his wife, Ned Sparks as his child-hating press agent; Laura Hope Crews, star of silent films, as a former opera singer with a talented daughter; Linda Ware, 14-year-old singer, a real discovery, as the opera star's daughter; and Walter Damrosch as himself, in a scene with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra.

Songs heard in the picture will bring moments of nostalgia to many. Melodies in the film include "School days", "In My Merry Oldsmobile", "Jimmy Valentine", "Dark Town Strutters' Ball", among the old tunes and "A Man and His Dreams", "An Apple for the Teacher", among the new ones.

Ambling along at the usual pace of a Crosby picture, with a facility for sustaining interest, the picture is thoroughly good entertainment for the entire family.

A role tailored to fit Bing Crosby is the title role in "The Star Maker," which shows tonight and Tuesday at the State. Playing the part of a song writer who becomes a success in show business by presenting outstanding youngsters, Crosby is seen in one of his best performances. The story is based on the life of Gus Edwards, famed showman, who was the first to realize the public interest in child talent.

The story takes Crosby through the highlights of Edwards' career shows him succeeding with the youngsters' show; then, rebuffed by the Gerry society for having children perform after 10 o'clock, finally winning success on the radio, then in his infancy.

The supporting cast includes Louise Campbell as his wife; Ned Sparks as his child-hating press agent; Laura Hope Crews, star of silent films, as a former opera singer with a talented daughter; Linda Ware, 14-year-old singer, a real discovery, as the opera star's daughter; and Walter Damrosch as himself, in a scene with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra.

Songs heard in the picture will bring moments of nostalgia to many. Melodies in the film include "School days," "In My Merry Oldsmobile," "Jimmy Valentine," "Dark Town Strutters' Ball," among the old tunes and "A Man and His Dreams," "An Apple for the Teacher," among the new ones.

Ambling along at the usual pace of a Crosby picture, with a faculty for sustaining interest, the picture is thoroughly good entertainment for the entire family.

TIME TO CHECK CAR FOR WINTER

Motorist Sure Of Good Performance With Sinclair Service

Your car, perhaps, does not travel as far in the winter season as it does in the summer if you are an average motorist.

But in spite of this fact, your car needs just as much attention, undoubtedly more, during the cold weather months.

First it must be so conditioned that it will withstand the assault of zero weather when Old Man Winter puts his icy grip on oil and all moving parts. Your lubrication must be right or, eventually, you will be facing a repair bill.

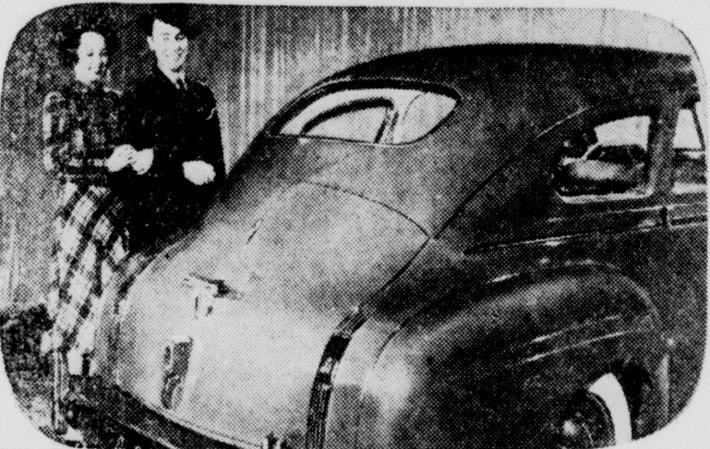

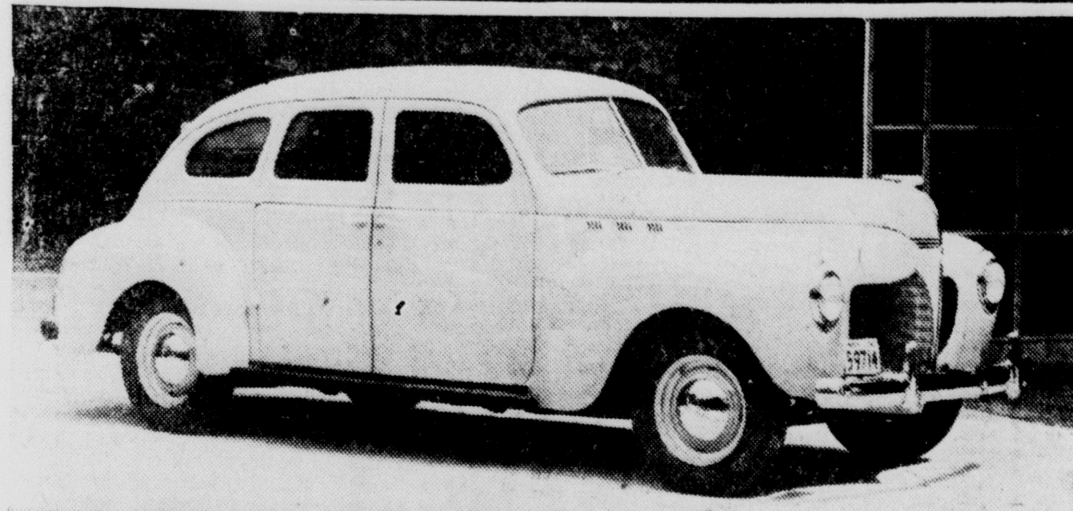

It must be conditioned, secondly, to withstand varying temperatures, conditions which it does not face during the warm weather era.

It must have proper fuel—that is, gasoline—so that combustion may take place most effectively.

There are numerous other reasons with which the average driver is acquainted.

And each and every one of them is just one more reason why your car should be checked at a Sinclair service station. The Sinclair Refining company, through its laboratories and research divisions, is constantly seeking new means of protecting your car through the judicious use of specialized lubricants. This information is passed along to Sinclair service stations and to the motorist.

1940 De Soto Models Make Their Bow Here

"It's beautiful from any angle," is the statement being made about the new 1940 De Soto, being shown for the first time this week in dealers' showrooms in this area. With wheelbase of 122½ inches, 100 horsepower engine, and increased dimensions in hip, leg, elbow and headroom, the new car also boasts a new high standard of comfort due to redistribution of chassis weight elements. Other 1940 De Soto highlights are Sealed-Beam headlamps, concealed front door hinges, new safety signals on instrument panel and new easier Handy-Shift on the steering post with full tenite lever.

snowballs or viburnum are selling well.

Here is a pink-flowering bush with a sweet-scented bloom of beautiful and rare variety. Even when the bush is not blooming, the planter has a pretty shrub for ornamental purposes. These can be planted well in the fall.

Shrubs More Popular

Burkwood, with glossy leaves and fine appearance, has been popular with Mr. Cope's customers. The familiar barberry for hedge plants and shrubs is sold in many varieties at the Salem nursery.

Scattered showers in some districts last week resulted in many orders coming in at the Cope nursery office. Each day, trucks deliver trees and shrubs to Lisbon, Columbus, Youngstown, Alliance and many other communities over quite a radius from Salem.

Throughout September and October, before frosts set in, property owners have the best season for planting deciduous shrubs. Evergreens can be planted later sometimes, though October is the best season.

Should Trim Trees

Each customer who purchases evergreens at the Cope Nursery is told by Mr. Cope, a veteran nurseryman, that their plantings should be trimmed at least once a year for the best appearance and health. Only by trimming can a tree thick and bushy growth be maintained. Cultivation and loosening of the ground about young evergreens is suggested for improved growth and health of the stock.

Workers at the Cope Nursery attend to the care of trees on several public and private properties in this district.

The so-called berry shrubs and small trees are growing in popularity this year, according to Mr. Cope. Hawthorns and flowering shrubs are being used in increasing number, while the popular

RIDING QUALITY IS EMPHASIZED

1940 Floating Ride Looms As One Of Outstanding Features

Bigger, roomier, more powerful with longer wheelbase, the 1940 DeSoto is making its initial public bow this week as new shipments of new models arrive in dealers' showrooms. Here the new DeSoto will be shown by the Harris Garage and Storage Co.

Carrying the slogan, "The Great American Family Car," the new DeSoto emphasizes 100 horsepower engines, 122½-inch wheelbase, sofa-width seats with more elbow and legroom, increased headroom despite a lower overall height, larger windows affording better visibility and ventilation, and greatly improved riding qualities due to redistribution of weight and the placement of rear seats a full 11 inches ahead of the rear axle.

Among the new safety devices incorporated in the instrument panel are tiny night lights which flash a red warning signal when gas supply, oil pressure, water temperature, or generator output require attention. There is also a safety signal speaker which shows green, amber or red as road speed is increased.

Considerably improved performance with exceptional gasoline economy is shown by the new 100-horsepower engine, according to engineering tests. Translated into owner's language, the improvements in the power plant result in faster getaway, smoother and quicker pickup through all speed ranges, and more reserve speed for emergencies.

Improved Floating Ride

Under the heading of performance, the 1940 Floating Ride looms as one of the car's outstanding advantages. In the opinion of those who have had demonstrations, the net result is an easy, untiring ride that sets new standards of comfort.

Mechanically, the 1940 models have a number of new advantages. A huskier frame, contributing to longer life, is so designed as to lower the entire body structure nearly one inch to give lower overall height and lower center of gravity. Ten improvements have been made in the transmission and gear shift; that make for easier operation, longer life and more efficiency. New cross-type universal joints are smoother in operation.

Sealed Beam headlamps improve visibility at night with an increase of 50 to 66 per cent in illumination effectiveness, guarantee against dimming reflector efficiency, and are reported to last two or three times longer than filaments formerly used.

Convertible Added

New to the line this year is a convertible coupe in the custom series with a top which folds up or down by power supplied from the engine. The driver needs only to turn a control lever on the instrument panel to start the top mechanism operating.

Body types available on the DeSoto line are the 4-door touring sedan, 2-door touring sedan, coupe with auxiliary seats and 7-passenger touring sedan.

The custom series has, in addition to these choices, the convertible coupe and 7-passenger limousine. Standard durashen colors are black, bimini blue, regal maroon, garland green, gunmetal, Hawaiian blue, Williamsburg tan and pearl gray. There is a choice of broadcloth or a new type of short-pile mohair upholstery in both DeLuxe and custom series and all models are available with or without running boards as desired.

CHILD REQUIRES GOOD CLOTHING

His Apparel Should Be Just As Well-Kept As Parents

Children's clothing should be just as fresh, smart and clean as the adults'. This is particularly true of the child who goes to school.

There is a vast psychological value in equipping school children with the proper clothing—tidy, well kept and just as fashionable as possible.

Children are really more sensitive than we think, more so, in many respects, than an adult. And clothing of which they may be ashamed when they are among their schoolmates may do considerable harm, producing an inferiority complex which may be difficult to overcome.

When a child has suitable apparel, it should not be difficult to keep it clean, smart and fresh. The Paris Cleaners are no farther away from you than your telephone. And their service, of course, is guaranteed.

Periodic cleaning will add months of life to the average garment.

Famous Nash Weather Eye Guarantees Rider Comfort

This year the driving public actually will see the famous Nash "weather eye," the mysterious weather watcher which automatically prevents changes in outside weather from affecting inside car comfort. The "eye" is mounted on top of the instrument panel near the windshield, and takes its outside weather readings through the glass.

This car weather system is located under the cowl. It draws in large quantities of fresh, outside air through the cowl ventilator, then routes it to a rain shedder to remove excess moisture, then through a processed filter for purification, and then to a warming chamber where the air is heated to the comfort level specified by the car driver.

A flick of a radio-like control dial is all that is necessary to set the system. The "eye" automatically maintains the car comfort ordered by the setting of the dial, even if the temperature outside changes radically.

Drafts Prevented

The system holds the interior of the car under slight air pressure, thereby preventing air from entering at any place except through the conditioner, and thus preventing drafts. The air in the car constantly is being changed and, as a result, tobacco smoke is whisked from the car almost instantly.

Another contribution to comfortable and pleasant motoring is the Nash "sand morter" soundproofing. This was developed with the aid of engineers of the electric refrigerator division of Nash-Kelvinator corporation. Grains of sand suspended in a compound deflect sound waves. An additional anti-noise barrier is built up by Nash this year by the use of insulation at every point where the body is held to the frame. Fabreka, a new type of high efficiency insulation, is used. The combination of the two, Blevs declares, makes Nash cars the most noiseless on the road today.

You will want to know more about the many advantages of the new Nash. See it and learn about it at the showrooms of the Buckeye Motor Sales, 451 E. Pershing st.

Metzger Hotel's McDonnell Trio Stays 3rd Week

Feminine grace, beauty and talent have combined to provide a new high in entertainment value for the patrons of the Silver Cocktail bar at the Metzger hotel.

All these qualities are exemplified in the persons of the Winifred McDonnell trio, an appealing group of girl musicians who have just concluded their second week at the Metzger.

So successful has their stay been here that they are being held for at least another week.

Winifred McDonnell plays the piano, Mary Osborn the Spanish electric guitar, violin and at times the string bass, while Mary Flo Wood specializes in the bass. All of them sing.

"Moods in Rhythm" they style their program and their repertoire is so extensive they can provide almost any "musical mood" that the patron desires.

SEASON'S HERE FOR PLANTINGS

Cope Bros. And Fultz Nursery Head Explains Care Of Trees

As soon as the next good rain visits a wide area of northern Ohio, fall planting of evergreens, shrubs and nursery stock will reach its peak, according to J. J. Cope, proprietor of the Cope Bros. & Fultz Nursery, on Depot road.

Scattered showers in some districts last week resulted in many orders coming in at the Cope nursery office. Each day, trucks deliver trees and shrubs to Lisbon, Columbiana, Youngstown, Alliance and many other communities over quite a radius from Salem.

Throughout September and October, before frosts set in, property owners have the best season for planting deciduous shrubs. Evergreens can be planted later sometimes, though October is the best season.

Should Trim Trees

Each customer who purchases evergreens at the Cope Nursery is told by Mr. Cope, a veteran nurseryman, that their plantings should be trimmed at least once a year for the best appearance and health. Only by trimming, can a nice thick and bushy growth be maintained. Cultivation and loosening of the ground about young evergreens is suggested for improved growth and health of the stock.

Workmen at the Cope Nursery attend to the care of trees on several public and private properties in this district.

The so-called berry shrubs and small trees are growing in popularity this year, according to Mr. Cope. Hawthorns and flowering crabs are being used in increasing number, while the popular snowballs or viburnum are selling well.

Here is a pinkflowering bush, with a sweetened bloom, of beautiful and rare variety. Even when the bush is not blooming, the planter has a pretty shrub for ornamental purposes. These can be planted well in the fall.

Shrubs More Popular

Burkwood, with glossy leaves and fine appearance, has been popular with Mr. Cope's customers. The familiar barberry for hedge plants and shrubs is sold in many varieties at the Salem nursery.

Varieties of syringa and hydrangea are in great demand. They are popular because, like the berry shrubs and some other deciduous plants, they bloom in the late fall and provide good indoor bouquets when other flowers are gone. Many of these blooms are dried and retained as fall and winter decorations.

Orders for roses are still coming into the nursery here. Most in demand among the evergreens are Japanese cypresses, hemlock, and junipers. Hardiness of these varieties and their freedom from disease make them easy to grow. Customers are invited to visit the nursery at any time and pick out their own plantings. Orders also will be delivered after receipt of telephone calls.

MAX CAPLAN COPS GOLF CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP

BEATS FORMER CHAMP TO WIN LINKS HONORS

Brilliant Golf Is Seen In Finals Of Championship Tournament

Championship of the Salem Golf club belongs today to Alvin Max Caplan.

Caplan won the coveted title from Carl McQuilkin yesterday, defeating the former champion, 2 and 1, in the 36-hole final of the annual Club Championship tournament.

Playing before a small gallery, both finalists shot brilliant golf. They were even at the end of the first 18 after shooting 72's on the first two rounds of the club's hilly layout. Caplan was one-up at the end of 27 holes.

Stages Rally

McQuilkin never held the lead, although he dropped Caplan closely throughout the match. The former champion staged a brilliant rally to tie the match at the end of the 18th, winning the 14th, 15th and 17th holes after failing three down on the 13th.

Four times during the last 18 McQuilkin came from behind to tie the match, but Caplan's consistent shooting was too much for him to overcome. Caplan clinched the match by winning the 32nd and 35th holes after McQuilkin had evened the contest on the 31st.

Poor drives caused McQuilkin to lose the two holes which gave Caplan the championship. Caplan shot steady golf on each of four rounds of the nine-hole course. He equaled par for the first round, turning in a 35, and fired a 37 on the second round, a 36 on the third and a 36 on the fourth.

One Over Par

McQuilkin was one over par for his first two rounds, shooting 36's, and went two over on the third round with a 37. He had a 39 on the fourth round.

McQuilkin thrilled the gallery on the 22nd hole when he dropped a 20-yard approach shot for a birdie 3. Caplan's most sensational performance of the match was on the 26th hole where he sank a 35-foot putt for a birdie 3.

Cards of the two golfers for the 36 holes follow:

NOTRE DAME TO BATTLE PURDUE

Mid-west Game Is One Of Best On Schedule This Week

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—A dozen years ago, you probably could not have imagined such a thing, but Purdue is playing Notre Dame this week, and Pitt's Golden Panthers are flying west to meet the University of Washington.

In addition, the schedule for September's last weekend lists such games as New York University-Colgate, Temple-Georgetown, Nebraska-Indiana, Duke-Davidson, Rice-Vanderbilt, Southern Methodist-Oklahoma and Texas Christian-U. C. L. A.

This week's program, bringing the first general action despite the 109 or so games already played, shows how the college game has changed since the colleges began paying more attention to the cash customers.

Only Two Play

Of the teams listed above, only Davidson and Vanderbilt already have played. And Davidson's Wildcats took a 18-14 setback from North Carolina State Saturday, while the Commodores were held to a 13-12 tie by Tennessee Tech last Wednesday.

Other noteworthy games last weekend saw North Carolina pile up one of the biggest scores ever made in Southern conference competition, 59-0 against the Citadel. Wake Forest, another title contender, beat South Carolina, 19-7.

Arkansas and Texas A. and M. of the Southwest conference and Iowa State of the Big Six also started well, but on the West Coast Washington State had difficulty beating Gonzaga, 19-6.

This week, however, it is all business. A few big teams, mostly in the east, have warm-up games on their schedules.

TINY MUSKINGUM BACK SETS PACE

Dick Trump Leads Scoring In Ohio College Football Ranks

BY FRITZ BOWELL

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25—A 130-pound sophomore, halfback, Dick Trump of Muskingum, drum-major of Ohio's collegiate football individual scoring parade today as the smoke cleared away from the season's opening contests.

Trump romped for three touchdowns as the Muskies smothered Otterbein 32 to 0, with the losers failing to get in enemy territory anytime during the game, and his 18 points gave him the edge over the rest of the back.

Close behind were Bill Beach of Toledo, one of last year's top-rankers, who counted 14 points in the Rockets 39 to 0 win over Valparaiso; Keel of Ohio Northern, who counted both touchdowns as the Polar Bears beat Findlay, 14 to 9; Szelagowski of Toledo, who scored a pair of touchdowns against Valpo; and about a dozen others who had one touchdown to their credit.

Rough, Alfred Holbrook end, got two touchdowns and a point conversion on passes as the Ohioans defeated a Ft. Thomas, Ky., service team, 32 to 6.

Kicks Winning Goal

Most satisfying score of the week-end, however, probably was the last-period placekick by Quarterback Backensto of Bluffton, giving his team a 3 to 0 victory over Kenyon. He booted it from the one-yard line, but it counted as much as if it had gone from the 50, and it turned the week's only possible contest into a Bluffton win.

The scoring set-up is due for a hefty change next weekend, as several of the powerhouse elevens go into action for the first time. Among those to tip the lid off the season Friday or Saturday are Xavier, Denison, Wooster, Case, Dayton, Western Reserve, Wittenberg, Baldwin Wallace, Miami, Akron and Cincinnati, and all of them are expected to be "hot."

A complete turnover in talent loomed on several fronts as the result of the opening, Ohio university, which last year launched its campaign with a 6-0 win over the University of Illinois, fell before a "so-so" Kentucky State Teachers' eleven by 14 to 7, while Ohio Wesleyan, which scored only 27 points a year ago while winning but one of nine games, equalled both 1938 efforts by swamping Alma 27 to 0.

Shoppers Office in the Court House, Lisbon, Ohio, the Commissioners will meet for a final hearing to consider whether said road will be finally vacated.

SALEM RIDERS LOSE IN LAST LEAGUE GAME

Akron Bar K Cowboys Top Local Club, 5-3, In Contest Here

A scoreless second half proved disastrous for the Salem Polo club in its final game of the Penn-Ohio league season against the Akron Bar K Cowboys at the Ellsworth rd. field Sunday.

The Salem riders battled on even terms with the Cowboys in the first half, but failed to tally in the second half while Akron counted two goals to win, 5 to 3.

Hard-riding "Chick" Barr paced the Akron offensive and contributed the game's outstanding individual play when he stroked the ball the length of the field to score in the second chukker.

Shares Scoring Honors

Barr counted two goals for the Cowboys, sharing scoring honors with rotund Harvey Green, the Akron captain, and Jim Pidgeon, the Salem club's ace No. 3 man.

Pidgeon, hitting more accurately than he had for several weeks, scored two of Salem's three goals.

The Salem riders, forged into the lead at the outset of the game, counting two goals in the first chukker to Akron's one. The Cowboys rallied in the second period, making one goal, to tie the score at 2-2.

Both teams scored once in the third frame and the score remained deadlocked at halftime.

After a scoreless fourth chukker, Akron came back with one goal in the fifth to take a 4-3 lead. The Cowboys tallied one goal late in the sixth period to sew up the decision.

Fifth In Row

The defeat was the Salem club's fifth in a row and its 13th in the Penn-Ohio league. It was the Cowboys' 11th victory in 17 league contests, placing them on top in the Penn-Ohio standings.

The game completed the Salem club's 21-game schedule in the Penn-Ohio loop. The team's record for the season lists seven victories and 13 defeats. One league game with Pittsburgh North Hills was cancelled.

Although their league season has been completed, the Salem riders are planning to play non-league games as long as the weather remains favorable.

Indians Glad To Leave Own Park After Bad Season There

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25.—The Cleveland Indians have played their last home game of the season, and for once they are not sorry to be leaving.

Long noted as a team that could win at home but lost on the road, and particularly in the east, the Tribe yesterday dropped a double header to the Detroit Tigers, 2 to 1 and 9 to 1 to close their home schedule with a three-game losing streak.

The double loss dropped them to fourth place again, a game behind the Chicago White Sox.

Mel Harder pitched with his usual late-season effectiveness in the first tilt, except for two pitches. Big Hank Greenberg and Rudy York hit consecutive homers in the sixth inning for Detroit's two runs.

Start Early

The Tigers sewed up the second tilt in the first inning with a four run spurge in which they drove Southpaw Al Mular from the hill before a batter had been retired. They followed with a five-run out-break against Willis Hudlin in the fourth.

Paul (Dizzy) Trout held the Indians to three hits, one a home run by Oscar Grimes.

The second game was called at the end of the fifth inning because of darkness by Umpire Ed Rempel but Vice President C. C. Slapnicka of the Indians declared it was still light enough to continue and announced he would protest.

The Indians are idle until Saturday when they play at Chicago in a double-header.

HEAT NOW ON CARDS IN HOT PENNANT RACE

St. Louis Needs Practically Clean Sweep To Cop Flag

By JUDSON BAILEY

The thermal status of the National league pennant race has passed from the boiling to the exploding point, and when the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals collide tomorrow something is going to blow.

The thermometer gives a little different reading now than at the first of the month, however, because the "heat" is on the challengers as the two teams rush into their four-game series.

A few weeks ago, Cincinnati's critics said the Reds would have to buckle down to stave off St. Louis. They did winning 16 of their last 20 games and seven straight up to and including yesterday's 11-2 triumph over Pittsburgh.

Drop Behind

As a result the Cardinals, winning 13 of 15 games and likewise their last seven in a row, including a 9-1 crusher against the Chicago Cubs Sunday, actually have dropped a half game further in the last two weeks.

They must grab each of their remaining games—four with Cincinnati and three with Chicago—to win the pennant by a half game, should the Reds resume their rout of the Pirates.

This is how they stand today:

MAX CAPLAN COPS GOLF CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP

BEATS FORMER
CHAMP TOWIN
LINKS HONORSBrilliant Golf Is Seen In Finals Of Championship Tournament

Championship of the Salem Golf club belongs today to Al's Max Caplan.

Caplan won the coveted title from Carl McQuilkin yesterday, defeating the former champion, 2 and 1, in the 36-hole final of the annual Club Championship tournament.

Playing before a small gallery, both finalists shot brilliant golf. They were even at the end of the first 18 after shooting 72 on the first two rounds of the club's hilly layout. Caplan was one-up at the end of 27 holes.

Stages Rally
McQuilkin never held the lead, although he pressed Caplan closely throughout the match. The former champion staged a brilliant rally to tie the match at the end of the first 18, winning the 14th, 15th and 17th holes after falling three down on the 13th.

Four times during the last 18 McQuilkin came from behind to tie the match, but Caplan's consistent shooting was too much for him to overcome. Caplan clinched the match by winning the 32nd and 35th holes after McQuilkin had leveled the contest on the 31st.

Poor drives caused McQuilkin to lose the two holes which gave Caplan the championship.

Caplan shot steady golf on each of four rounds of the nine-hole course. He equaled par for the first round, shooting 36, and fired a 37 on the second round, a 36 on the third and a 36 on the fourth.

One Over Par
McQuilkin was one over par for his first two rounds, shooting 36, and went two over on the third round with a 37. He had a 39 on the fourth round.

McQuilkin thrilled the gallery on the 22nd hole when he dropped a 20-yard approach shot to birdie 3. Caplan's most sensational performance of the match was on the 26th hole where he sank a 35-foot putt for a birdie 3.

Cards of the two golfers for the 36 holes follow:

Of the teams listed above, only Davidson and Vanderbilt already have played. And Davidson's Wildcats took a 18-14 setback from North Carolina State Saturday.

While the Commodores were held to a 13-12 tie by Tennessee Tech last Wednesday.

Other noteworthy games last weekend saw North Carolina pile up one of the biggest scores ever made in Southern conference competition, 50-0 against the Citadel.

Wake Forest, another tile contender, beat South Carolina, 19-7. Arkansas and Texas A. and M. of the Southwest conference and Iowa State of the Big Six also started well, but on the West Coast Washington State had difficulty beating Gonzaga, 19-6.

This week, however, it is all business. A few big games, mostly in the east, have warm-up games on their schedules.

TINY MUSKINGUM
BACK SETS PACEDick Trump Leads Scoring
In Ohio College Football Ranks

BY FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Sept. 25—A 130-pound sophomore halfback, Dick Trump of Muskingum, drum-majored Ohio's collegiate football in the scoring parade today as the smoke cleared away from the season's opening contests.

Trump romped for three touchdowns as the Muskies smothered Otterbein 32 to 0, with the losers failing to get in enemy territory anytime during the game, and his 18 points gave him the edge over the rest of the back.

Close behind were Bill Beach of Toledo, one of last year's top-ranked players, who counted 14 points in the Rockets 39 to 0 win over Valparaiso; Keel of Ohio Northern, who counted both touchdowns as the Polar Bears beat Findlay, 14 to 9; Szilagowski of Toledo, who scored a pair of touchdowns against Valpo; and about a dozen others who had one touchdown to their credit.

Roush, Alfred Holbrook end, got two touchdowns and a point conversion on passes as the Ohioans defeated a Ft. Thomas, Ky., service team, 32 to 6.

Kicks Winning Goal
Most satisfying score of the week-end, however, probably was the last-period placekick by Quarterback Backenstof of Bluffton, giving his team a 3 to 0 victory over Kenyon. He booted it from the one-yard line, but it counted as much as if it had gone from the 50, and it turned the week's only possible scoreless tie into a Bluffton win.

The scoring set-up is due for a hefty change next weekend, as several of the "powerhouse" eleven go into action for the first time. Among those to tip the lid off the season Friday or Saturday are Xavier, Denison, Wooster, Case, Dayton, Western Reserve, Wittenberg, Baldwin Wallace, Miami, Akron and Cincinnati, and all of them are expected to be "hot."

A complete turnover in talent loomed on several fronts as the result of the opening Ohio university, which last year launched its campaign with a 6-0 win over the University of Illinois, fell before a "so-so" Kentucky State Teachers' eleven by 14 to 7, while Ohio Wesleyan, which scored only 27 points a year ago while winning but 1938 efforts by swamping Alma 27 to 0.

Top Local Club, 5-3,
In Contest Here

A scoreless second half proved disastrous for the Salem Polo club in its final game of the Penn-Ohio league season against the Akron Bar K Cowboys at the Ellsworth rd. field Sunday.

The Salem riders battled on even terms with the Cowboys in the first half, but failed to tally in the second half while Akron counted two goals to win, 5 to 3.

Hard-riding "Chick" Barr paced the Akron offensive and contributed the game's outstanding individual play when he stroked the ball the length of the field to score in the second chukker.

Shares Scoring Honors
Barr counted two goals for the Cowboys, sharing scoring honors with retund Harvey Green, the Akron captain, and Jim Pidgeon, the Salem club's ace No. 3 man.

Pidgeon, hitting more accurately than he had for several weeks, scored two of Salem's three goals.

The Salem riders forged into the lead at the outset of the game, counting two goals in the first chukker to Akron's one. The Cowboys rallied in the second period, making one goal, to tie the score at 2-2.

Both teams scored once in the third frame and the score remained deadlocked at halftime.

After a scoreless fourth chukker, Akron came back with one goal in the fifth to take a 4-3 lead. The Cowboys tallied one goal late in the sixth period to sew up the decision.

Fifth In Row
The defeat was the Salem club's fifth in a row and its 13th in the Penn-Ohio league. It was the Cowboys' 11th victory in 17 league contests, placing them on top in the Penn-Ohio standings.

The game completed the Salem club's 21-game schedule in the Penn-Ohio loop. The team's record for the season lists seven victories and 13 defeats. One league game with Pittsburgh North Hills was cancelled.

Although their league season has been completed, the Salem riders are planning to play non-league games as long as the weather remains favorable.

Three Salem fighters will appear in the Salem Golf club's amateur boxing show at the club Wednesday night.

Meeting in the main bout, a five-round affair, will be Don West of Salem and Roscoe Wilson of Alliance.

The semi-final will send Dick Scullion of Salem against Al Packard of Canfield.

Scullion, a welterweight, who has been absent from the ring for three months due to a broken thumb, went unbeaten in 13 straight fights before suffering his first setback early this summer.

One of two preliminary bouts, each at three rounds, will see "Red" Eddie of Salem cross gloves with Andy Reno of Alliance. Eddie will be making his first appearance in the ring after training at the Salem A. C. for the past few months.

Bill Kelley of Youngstown and Lavon Price of Canfield will meet in the opening prelim.

The four-bout show is being promoted by George Julian.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—Paul Junior, the Maine lightweight, has just completed a $26,000 apartment in Lewiston, bought with his savings from 300 fights.

The pitcher losing the most games in the junior world's series is Bob Grove (now with the Red Sox) who dropped eight and won four for Baltimore.

Henry Armstrong's fight picture is being held up by retakes.

Some of the experts say the Reds' pitching will be difference in that series with the Cards starting tomorrow. The invitations to Lou Ambers' wedding are out.

Official announcement of where Frank Frisch is going may not be made until after the season, but everybody here seems to think it's Pittsburgh.

Conn vs Bettina tonight will be Pittsburgh's first 175-pound title match, although both Harry Greb and John Henry Lewis called the "Smoky City" home.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25—The Cleveland Indians have played their last home game of the season, and for once they are not sorry to be leaving.

Long noted as a team that could win at home but lost on the road, and particularly in the east, the Tribe yesterday dropped a double header to the Detroit Tigers, 2 to 1 and 9 to 1 to close their home schedule with a three-game losing streak.

The double loss dropped them to fourth place again, a game behind the Chicago White Sox.

Mel Harder pitched with his usual late-season effectiveness in the first tilt, except for two pitches. Big Hank Greenberg and Rudy York hit consecutive homers in the sixth inning for Detroit's two runs.

Start Early
The Tigers sewed up the second tilt in the first inning with a four run spurge in which they drove Southpaw Al Milnar from the hill before a batter had been retired. They followed with a five-run out-break against Willis Hudlin in the fourth.

Paul (Dizzy) Trout held the Indians to three hits, one a home run by Oscar Grimes.

The second game was called at the end of the fifth inning because of darkness by Umpire Ed Rommel but Vice President C. C. Snipnicka of the Indians declared it was still light enough to continue and announced he would protest.

The Indians are idle until Saturday when they play at Chicago in a double-header.

HEAT NOW ON CARDS IN HOT
PENNANT RACESt. Louis Needs Practically Clean Sweep
To Cop Flag

By JUDSON BAILEY
The thermal status of the National league pennant race has passed from the boiling to the exploding point, and when the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals collide tomorrow something is going to blow.

The thermometer gives a little different reading now than at the first of the month, however, because the "heat" is on the challengers as the two teams rush into their four-game series.

A few weeks ago, Cincinnati's critics said the Reds would have to buckle down to stave off St. Louis. They did—winning 16 of their last 20 games and seven straight up to and including yesterday's 11-2 triumph over Pittsburgh.

Drop Behind
As a result the Cardinals, winning 13 of 15 games and likewise their last seven in a row, including a 9-1 crusher against the Chicago Cubs Sunday, actually have dropped a half game further in the last two weeks.

They must grab each of their remaining games—four with Cincinnati and three with Chicago—to win the pennant by a half game, should the Reds resume their rout of the Pirates.

This is how they stand today:
Club W. L. G. B. G. T. P.
Cincinnati 93 54 7
St. Louis 89 57 3 1/2 7

Meanwhile, the Brooklyn Dodgers dragged down their second double-header in two days from the Phillies, 3-1 and 5-3, to move past the Cubs into their place. The New York Giants and Boston Bees split two games, New York taking the first, 5-3, and dropping the nightcap, 5-3.

Yanks Continue
The World Champion Yankees, eager to pass the mark of 107 victories set by Joe McCarthy's first New York pennant winner in 1932, chalked up No. 104 at the expense of the Washington Senators, 3-2.

The Detroit Tigers toppled the Cleveland Indians out of third place in the American league with a pair of victories, 2-1 and 9-1.

The Chicago White Sox took another double helping of the St. Louis Browns, 11-9 and 4-3, and the Boston Red Sox scored five runs in the eighth to beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-4.

Canton Wins On Error By Lakers

Scoring one run in the tenth inning the Canton Aultman Grocers defeated Lake Placidia 8 to 7 yesterday afternoon at the Lake diamond.

Placidia came from behind to tie the score in the eighth at seven all. Neither team could score in the ninth but Canton pushed over a tally in the tenth on Rodi's error.

Sammy Drakulich hit a home run for the Lakers while Kuntzman connected for Canton.

The winning pitcher was Artis, the loser Don Hoffman.

Placidia will wind up its season next Sunday, meeting Sunset Park.

Reds Regain 3 1/2 Game Lead
In National League Race

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25.—Say what you will, the Reds got it back the hard way and there's the measure of the team that's ready to lay the Cards on the table or over the barrel.

Only last Tuesday the Phillies, humble as they should be, staged a full game of the Reds' 3 1/2-game lead in the National league.

Now, as the boys take a day's rest and prepare for tomorrow's supreme double-struggle with the second-place St. Louis people, they are back up there and those Cards haven't lost a game all the time.

Sweep Series
This grand show of what the medecines call enteric stamina came during the Reds' triumphant march through the five-game Pittsburgh series, which closed yesterday with Paul Derringer's 24th win, 11 to 2. That series included two double-headers and the Reds regained the lost margin by taking both while the Cards won single games.

Well, what's the future hold. Mainly those four earth-shaking games with the Cards, two tomorrow and one each Wednesday and Thursday, and if the earth isn't shaking the Cincinnati fans are from pure joy at the "natural" provided by the

Ask Court To Set Aside State Case

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25.—Counsel for Secretary of State Earl Griffith planned to ask the district appellate court today to set aside a common pleas court decision compelling Griffith to forward petitions for a referendum on the civil service reorganization act to county election boards.

The appeal was expected to delay further a battle by the state Democratic organization to place the Bricker administration's revised merit system statute on the November ballot.

Common Pleas Judge Dana P. Reynolds held Saturday that the secretary of state exceeded his authority when he rejected the petitions a week ago and refused to send them to county boards for a check on validity of signatures. Griffith rejected the petitions upon advice of the attorney general after finding, he said, that the number of valid signatures did not meet requirements for obtaining a referendum.

Escape Prison

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Horace Thornton of Montgomery county would have been eligible for parole next January, but today he was hunted as a fugitive from the Lebanon honor camp of the London prison farm. Supt. William F. Amrine said Thornton escaped after serving nearly 10 years of a robbery sentence. Two other fugitives from the prison farm—William Miller, 41, of Montgomery county, and David Branham, 46, of Champaign county—were sought near Urbana. Both were sentenced for robbery.

Bankers Opposed To Boom, They Say

SEATTLE, Sept. 25.—Bankers of the nation expressed optimism today over a noted upturn in business but termed themselves foes of a war boom at the 65th annual convention of the American Bankers' association.

Philip A. Benson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., president of the association, and Economist Leonard P. Ayres, of Cleveland, chairman of the ABA research council, said the country had been experiencing better times since last spring, or before the war. The war, they said, only added to the domestic industrial spurt.

Colonel Ayres, also chairman of the ABA's powerful economic commission, said he favored President Roosevelt's stand on repeal of the embargo clause of the neutrality law.

Ask Court To Set Aside State Case

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25.—Counsel for Secretary of State Earl Griffith planned to ask the district appellate court today to set aside a common pleas court decision compelling Griffith to forward petitions for a referendum on the civil service reorganization act to county election boards.

The appeal was expected to delay further a battle by the state Democratic organization to place the Bricker administration's revised merit system statute on the November ballot.

Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds held Saturday that the secretary of state exceeded his authority when he rejected the petitions a week ago and refused to send them to county boards for a check on validity of signatures. Griffith rejected the petitions upon advice of the attorney general after finding, he said, that the number of valid signatures did not meet requirements for obtaining a referendum.

Two other fugitives from the prison farm—William Miller, 41, of Montgomery county, and David Branham, 46, of Champaign county—were sought near Urbana. Both were sentenced for robbery.
